Cattle Shipped to Kansas City Market; Old Residents Move to St. Louis;

Couple Marries at Tucumcari. Vaughn, N. M., Oct. 18.—J. P. Williams has shipped from his San Pablo ranch 12 carloads of cattle to Kansas

There is in Vaughn a four room adobe house not unlike a score of others in town, but this special one is being built by a trio of lads all under years of age. Kenneth, Charles. and Theodore Crawford are the builders. They made the blocks and set them up, their father gave a little instruction in carpentering, but left them to really do the work, and it is surprisingly well done.

PIONEER CITIZEN OF SILVER CITY DIES

Searching Parties Still Look For Missing Man in the Hills.

Silver City, N. M., Oct. 13.—George H. Bell, one of the largest property owners and a resident here since 1880, died in a local hospital after a brief Deceased was born in Ohio but located in Sherman, Texas, when young man. During the exciting inlian raids in the early 80s, he came o this city with a band of young me fighting his way through much hostila indian country. He was at one time engaged in business in El Paso. He owned a large group of mining claims in the Burro mountain mining district, a cattle ranch just below Tyrone, and the Bell business block in this city. He was prominent as an Elk and was buried by that order.

Still Search for Haggerty. Searching parties are still in the Pinos Altas hills hunting for Michael Haggerty, who mysteriously disappeared from his home there over one week ago. Leaving a letter with Hon-F. J. Davidson, which he requested him not to open until the following day, Haggerty went to his nome, left his watch, personal effects and clothing, and has not since been seen. Upon opening the letter, Mr. Davidson found that it was in the nature of a will, leaving all his property, which is considerable, to young Roland Davidson, upon the provise that his legatee pay off a small indebtedness at the Davidson store, and further saying he was going away and would not return. No clue has been found, but the friends of the ploneer resident believe that he has committed suicide back in the

FILE PROTEST AGAINST ABANDONING DEEP WELL

Tueumeari Sends Delegation to Confer With Officials of Railroad and

Urge Continuing Work. Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 13 .- The Proressive society of San Jon, east of this city, on the Tucumcari & Memphis railroad, has sent a delegation to communicate with the railroad officials to protest against the abandonment of the well that was being put down at that place. The well in question was abandoned by the company because of the reports to the effect that salt water had been struck. At last reports no word had been received from the company. It is expected that a fine flow of artesian water will yet be developed, as the water is now standing but 40 feet from the surface of the hole. The well gang is now beginning a new bore mine miles from Tucumcari, where water is reported to be found
